

BY LAYING ON OF HANDS.

CHRISTIAN HEALER MONCK TELLS HIS STORY ON THE STAND.

Three Months of Joyful Rest in an English Jail—A Witness Cured by Faith of Stomach Lesions, Control of His Tongue.

Justice Pratt had a queer audience before him yesterday in Part II of the Circuit Court in Brooklyn. A large part of it consisted of the friends, chiefly females, of Rev. Dr. Monck, psychologist healer, who pretends to cure the sick by the laying on of hands. The Doctor's adherents manifested their interest with alacrity and clapped and rustled their dresses at critical points, and laughed outright when the Doctor got a good hit back at the lawyers. Many of the audience, however, were disposed to laugh at the Doctor, and even laughed at his quotations of Scripture. Mr. Henry, who sues to recover payment for services in the Doctor's employ, also had many friends in court.

Mrs. Fidelia Esther Burd testified that she had heard the plaintiff say he owed everything to Dr. Monck, even the clothes on his back. She declared that Dr. Monck had a great deal of money, and her daughter, Mrs. Vinton, danced.

Mrs. Alice A. Lewis testified that she had received a letter from the plaintiff in which he wrote: "I am not the emphasee of Dr. Monck."

Mr. Frank M. Satter testified that the reputation of the plaintiff was bad. Mrs. Eliza Levons, an inmate of the Doctor's house, testified that she saw Dr. Monck give a 110 clouts with the words, "For account in full," and that Mr. Henry acknowledged that was correct.

Mr. Henry, the young man named Joe, one of Dr. Monck's patients, alluded to having been cured by him of stammering, was called to disprove the claim. He denied that he had confidence in the Doctor, and when told that he was a man of much mind, he said, "I think I am not."

Justice Pratt ordered a sealed verdict.

INDIANS ON THE WAPPATH.

PEUJIAN SAVAGES AVENGING THE WRONGS THEY HAVE SUFFERED.

Scenes of Massacre in the Interior—Towns Evacuated by the Indians—Parch's Decree Finances—Vita Attempts to Borrow Money.

PANAMA, NOV. 24.—Peru continues very much disturbed. While the Chilianas are maintaining order in the south from the Pacific to the shores of Lake Titicaca, Cacares has invited the Indians in the interior against the whites. The Indian population of Huancayo, having suffered grievously during the war and long before hostilities were thought of, from the exactions of the whites, from forced military service and excessive taxation, is now determined on revenge. Near Huancayo the most barbarous outrages have been committed by these people against the unfeeling whites. Native Indians have refused to pay themselves for refusing to do what they were elected and sworn to do.

The Governor added: "I am sending public officers to pay themselves for laying the law, such an inconsistent conduct as that is the disgrace of any enlightened Government. The fact that one has been sent by the people to an office does not entitle him to pay. He must first perform the duties of his office. As well might the natives be allowed to lay the law as the Indians to lay the tax before him. The members of the Legislature have refused to do their duty in compliance with the conditions of their election."

Then the pint-sized conqueror read some extracts from the London Times, in which Mr. Monck was spoken of as an notorious expansive master of the law.

Mr. Monck waded up at this and said he was not a cheap Jack, and was not a lawyer.

He testified that just three months ago he was in good terms with them, and was himself a noble family. The witness remarked that he had got a good hit back at the lawyers.

Then the pint-sized conqueror read some extracts from the London Times, in which Mr. Monck was spoken of as an notorious expansive master of the law.

Mr. Monck waded up at this and said he was not a cheap Jack, and was not a lawyer.

He testified that just three months ago he was in good terms with them, and was himself a noble family. The witness remarked that he had got a good hit back at the lawyers.

Then the pint-sized conqueror read some extracts from the London Times, in which Mr. Monck was spoken of as an notorious expansive master of the law.

Mr. Monck waded up at this and said he was not a cheap Jack, and was not a lawyer.

He testified that just three months ago he was in good terms with them, and was himself a noble family. The witness remarked that he had got a good hit back at the lawyers.

Then the pint-sized conqueror read some extracts from the London Times, in which Mr. Monck was spoken of as an notorious expansive master of the law.

Mr. Monck waded up at this and said he was not a cheap Jack, and was not a lawyer.

He testified that just three months ago he was in good terms with them, and was himself a noble family. The witness remarked that he had got a good hit back at the lawyers.

Then the pint-sized conqueror read some extracts from the London Times, in which Mr. Monck was spoken of as an notorious expansive master of the law.

Mr. Monck waded up at this and said he was not a cheap Jack, and was not a lawyer.

He testified that just three months ago he was in good terms with them, and was himself a noble family. The witness remarked that he had got a good hit back at the lawyers.

Then the pint-sized conqueror read some extracts from the London Times, in which Mr. Monck was spoken of as an notorious expansive master of the law.

Mr. Monck waded up at this and said he was not a cheap Jack, and was not a lawyer.

He testified that just three months ago he was in good terms with them, and was himself a noble family. The witness remarked that he had got a good hit back at the lawyers.

Then the pint-sized conqueror read some extracts from the London Times, in which Mr. Monck was spoken of as an notorious expansive master of the law.

Mr. Monck waded up at this and said he was not a cheap Jack, and was not a lawyer.

He testified that just three months ago he was in good terms with them, and was himself a noble family. The witness remarked that he had got a good hit back at the lawyers.

Then the pint-sized conqueror read some extracts from the London Times, in which Mr. Monck was spoken of as an notorious expansive master of the law.

Mr. Monck waded up at this and said he was not a cheap Jack, and was not a lawyer.

He testified that just three months ago he was in good terms with them, and was himself a noble family. The witness remarked that he had got a good hit back at the lawyers.

Then the pint-sized conqueror read some extracts from the London Times, in which Mr. Monck was spoken of as an notorious expansive master of the law.

Mr. Monck waded up at this and said he was not a cheap Jack, and was not a lawyer.

He testified that just three months ago he was in good terms with them, and was himself a noble family. The witness remarked that he had got a good hit back at the lawyers.

Then the pint-sized conqueror read some extracts from the London Times, in which Mr. Monck was spoken of as an notorious expansive master of the law.

Mr. Monck waded up at this and said he was not a cheap Jack, and was not a lawyer.

He testified that just three months ago he was in good terms with them, and was himself a noble family. The witness remarked that he had got a good hit back at the lawyers.

Then the pint-sized conqueror read some extracts from the London Times, in which Mr. Monck was spoken of as an notorious expansive master of the law.

Mr. Monck waded up at this and said he was not a cheap Jack, and was not a lawyer.

He testified that just three months ago he was in good terms with them, and was himself a noble family. The witness remarked that he had got a good hit back at the lawyers.

Then the pint-sized conqueror read some extracts from the London Times, in which Mr. Monck was spoken of as an notorious expansive master of the law.

Mr. Monck waded up at this and said he was not a cheap Jack, and was not a lawyer.

He testified that just three months ago he was in good terms with them, and was himself a noble family. The witness remarked that he had got a good hit back at the lawyers.

Then the pint-sized conqueror read some extracts from the London Times, in which Mr. Monck was spoken of as an notorious expansive master of the law.

Mr. Monck waded up at this and said he was not a cheap Jack, and was not a lawyer.

He testified that just three months ago he was in good terms with them, and was himself a noble family. The witness remarked that he had got a good hit back at the lawyers.

Then the pint-sized conqueror read some extracts from the London Times, in which Mr. Monck was spoken of as an notorious expansive master of the law.

Mr. Monck waded up at this and said he was not a cheap Jack, and was not a lawyer.

He testified that just three months ago he was in good terms with them, and was himself a noble family. The witness remarked that he had got a good hit back at the lawyers.

Then the pint-sized conqueror read some extracts from the London Times, in which Mr. Monck was spoken of as an notorious expansive master of the law.

Mr. Monck waded up at this and said he was not a cheap Jack, and was not a lawyer.

He testified that just three months ago he was in good terms with them, and was himself a noble family. The witness remarked that he had got a good hit back at the lawyers.

Then the pint-sized conqueror read some extracts from the London Times, in which Mr. Monck was spoken of as an notorious expansive master of the law.

Mr. Monck waded up at this and said he was not a cheap Jack, and was not a lawyer.

He testified that just three months ago he was in good terms with them, and was himself a noble family. The witness remarked that he had got a good hit back at the lawyers.

Then the pint-sized conqueror read some extracts from the London Times, in which Mr. Monck was spoken of as an notorious expansive master of the law.

Mr. Monck waded up at this and said he was not a cheap Jack, and was not a lawyer.

He testified that just three months ago he was in good terms with them, and was himself a noble family. The witness remarked that he had got a good hit back at the lawyers.

Then the pint-sized conqueror read some extracts from the London Times, in which Mr. Monck was spoken of as an notorious expansive master of the law.

Mr. Monck waded up at this and said he was not a cheap Jack, and was not a lawyer.

He testified that just three months ago he was in good terms with them, and was himself a noble family. The witness remarked that he had got a good hit back at the lawyers.

Then the pint-sized conqueror read some extracts from the London Times, in which Mr. Monck was spoken of as an notorious expansive master of the law.

Mr. Monck waded up at this and said he was not a cheap Jack, and was not a lawyer.

He testified that just three months ago he was in good terms with them, and was himself a noble family. The witness remarked that he had got a good hit back at the lawyers.

Then the pint-sized conqueror read some extracts from the London Times, in which Mr. Monck was spoken of as an notorious expansive master of the law.

Mr. Monck waded up at this and said he was not a cheap Jack, and was not a lawyer.

He testified that just three months ago he was in good terms with them, and was himself a noble family. The witness remarked that he had got a good hit back at the lawyers.

Then the pint-sized conqueror read some extracts from the London Times, in which Mr. Monck was spoken of as an notorious expansive master of the law.

Mr. Monck waded up at this and said he was not a cheap Jack, and was not a lawyer.

He testified that just three months ago he was in good terms with them, and was himself a noble family. The witness remarked that he had got a good hit back at the lawyers.

Then the pint-sized conqueror read some extracts from the London Times, in which Mr. Monck was spoken of as an notorious expansive master of the law.

Mr. Monck waded up at this and said he was not a cheap Jack, and was not a lawyer.

He testified that just three months ago he was in good terms with them, and was himself a noble family. The witness remarked that he had got a good hit back at the lawyers.

Then the pint-sized conqueror read some extracts from the London Times, in which Mr. Monck was spoken of as an notorious expansive master of the law.

Mr. Monck waded up at this and said he was not a cheap Jack, and was not a lawyer.

He testified that just three months ago he was in good terms with them, and was himself a noble family. The witness remarked that he had got a good hit back at the lawyers.

Then the pint-sized conqueror read some extracts from the London Times, in which Mr. Monck was spoken of as an notorious expansive master of the law.

Mr. Monck waded up at this and said he was not a cheap Jack, and was not a lawyer.

He testified that just three months ago he was in good terms with them, and was himself a noble family. The witness remarked that he had got a good hit back at the lawyers.

Then the pint-sized conqueror read some extracts from the London Times, in which Mr. Monck was spoken of as an notorious expansive master of the law.

Mr. Monck waded up at this and said he was not a cheap Jack, and was not a lawyer.

He testified that just three months ago he was in good terms with them, and was himself a noble family. The witness remarked that he had got a good hit back at the lawyers.

Then the pint-sized conqueror read some extracts from the London Times, in which Mr. Monck was spoken of as an notorious expansive master of the law.

Mr. Monck waded up at this and said he was not a cheap Jack, and was not a lawyer.

He testified that just three months ago he was in good terms with them, and was himself a noble family. The witness remarked that he had got a good hit back at the lawyers.

Then the pint-sized conqueror read some extracts from the London Times, in which Mr. Monck was spoken of as an notorious expansive master of the law.

Mr. Monck waded up at this and said he was not a cheap Jack, and was not a lawyer.

He testified that just three months ago he was in good terms with them, and was himself a noble family. The witness remarked that he had got a good hit back at the lawyers.

Then the pint-sized conqueror read some extracts from the London Times, in which Mr. Monck was spoken of as an notorious expansive master of the law.

Mr. Monck waded up at this and said he was not a cheap Jack, and was not a lawyer.

He testified that just three months ago he was in good terms with them, and was himself a noble family. The witness remarked that he had got a good hit back at the lawyers.

Then the pint-sized conqueror read some extracts from the London Times, in which Mr. Monck was spoken of as an notorious expansive master of the law.

Mr. Monck waded up at this and said he was not a cheap Jack, and was not a lawyer.

He testified that just three months ago he was in good terms with them, and was himself a noble family. The witness remarked that he had got a good hit back at the lawyers.

Then the pint-sized conqueror read some extracts from the London Times, in which Mr. Monck was spoken of as an notorious expansive master of the law.

Mr. Monck waded up at this and said he was not a cheap Jack, and was not a lawyer.

He testified that just three months ago he was in good terms with them, and was himself a noble family. The witness remarked that he had got a good hit back at the lawyers.

Then the pint-sized conqueror read some extracts from the London Times, in which Mr. Monck was spoken of as an notorious expansive master of the law.

Mr. Monck waded up at this and said he was not a cheap Jack, and was not a lawyer.

He testified that just three months ago he was in good terms with them, and was himself a noble family. The witness remarked that he had got a good hit back at the lawyers.

Then the pint-sized conqueror read some extracts from the London Times, in which Mr. Monck was spoken of as an notorious expansive master of the law.

Mr. Monck waded up at this and said he was not a cheap Jack, and was not a lawyer.

He testified that just three months ago he was in good terms with them, and was himself a noble family. The witness remarked that he had got a good hit back at the lawyers.

Then the pint-sized conqueror read some extracts from the London Times, in which Mr. Monck was spoken of as an notorious expansive master of the law.

Mr. Monck waded up at this and said he was not a cheap Jack, and was not a lawyer.

He testified that just three months ago he was in good terms with them, and was himself a noble family. The witness